

Latah Trail

*So listen to the birdsongs
The wind among the trees
You can look at Moscow Mountain
Or the wheat fields if you please
From Tomer down to Joel
Past the pheasants and the quail
You're on the run of the Burlington
The beautiful Latah Trail*

Original lyrics by Dana Magnuson, sung to the tune of "Wabash Cannonball"

Gerry Queener

Contact Information:

Latah Trail Foundation

PO Box 9344, Moscow ID 83843

208-874-3860

latahtrail@gmail.com

latahtrailfoundation.org

facebook.com/LatahTrailFoundation

Instagram #latahtrailidaho

The Latah Trail Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, directed by a volunteer board. Maintenance, improvements, and expansion of the trail rely on support from people like you. Please send your tax-deductible donation to PO Box 9344, Moscow ID 83843 or donate online at latahtrailfoundation.org

See you on the trail!

The Latah Trail

The non-motorized Latah Trail follows the former Moscow-Arrow railbed through the picturesque prairie and agricultural landscape near Moscow, fragrant pine forests by Troy, and into the strikingly beautiful Bear Creek Canyon.

Currently, the trail is 16 miles long, including 12 paved miles from Moscow through Troy and a 4-mile graveled section south of Troy in Bear Creek Canyon.

Experience the sights and sounds of working farms, the rich history of the railroad, friendly communities, and a wide variety of plants and wildlife along the Latah Trail.

"It's a pleasure every time I ride, even when hot, cold, kind of rainy. It's a lovely trip with just the right amount of challenge for me. Riding my bike gets me in contact with my surroundings in a way no automobile can do."

– trail user

left: Interpretive signs along the trail give a glimpse into the area's history (see map for sign locations)

above right: Toddlers on a summertime stroll

right: Reconstructing a Bear Creek Canyon bridge

The Latah Trail Foundation promotes safe, non-motorized transportation in Latah County.

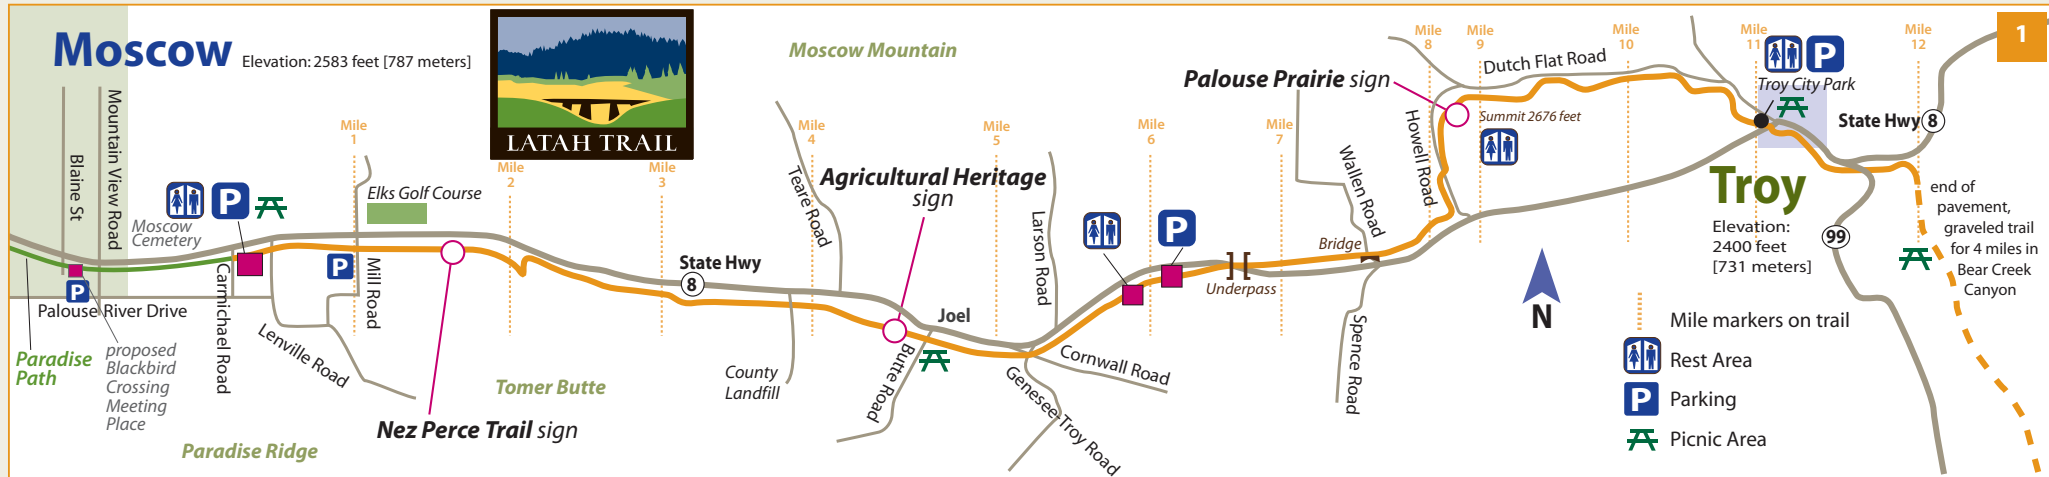

We are committed to raising funds for trail surface improvements, educational sites, interpretive signage, picnic areas, shelters, bridges, restrooms, parking facilities, benches, native plantings, and other amenities. We seek to reach out further into the communities of the Palouse and beyond, build our membership base, expand the trail network, and get more and more people out to explore and experience the Latah Trail.

"The sun was shining and the birds were singing ... it felt like a great day to be alive."

– trail user

Join us in this worthy endeavour and become a partner in trail building. Become a member today!

* These maps are generally to scale, please use a real map for accurate driving and riding mileages.

Overview of the regional trail system

“The Latah Trail exemplifies our thriving and generous community. We come together each day on the trail ...”
 – Ron Landeck

The Latah Trail is part of a growing network of trails that includes the Paradise Path in Moscow, the Chipman Trail between Moscow and Pullman, various trails in Pullman, and the Ed Corkill Memorial River Trail between Kendrick and Juliaetta.

The Latah Trail Foundation aspires to expand our connections from Troy to Kendrick and beyond. We are passionate about trails and their benefits to our region. Whatever your age, whether you live here or are visiting, seek a leisurely stroll, challenging skate, or scenic bike ride, explore in a wheelchair or on skis, please join us. Let’s come together on the Latah Trail!

left: Picnic shelter in Bear Creek Canyon, designed and constructed by New World Design
 above: the Palouse LaTeks

Brochure design and illustration by RDesign